

The mission of the Archives of the Charles F. Curry Library is to collect, protect, arrange, and preserve materials related to William Jewell College, in order to provide researchers with information about the rich history of the College and the city of Liberty.